MLB Extra Innings Out of Market HD Beta Launch

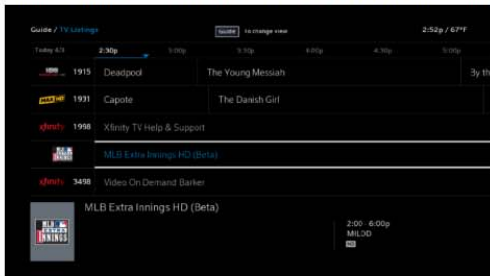

As part of the MLB Extra Innings experience, we are launching a new MLB Extra Innings Out of Market feature. XFINITY X1 customers with an MLB Extra Innings subscription and an XFINITY TV package that includes HD service will now be able to watch all games in HD! Effective today, April 24, MLB Extra Innings HD Beta will launch nationally.

Please note that there is no additional charge for eligible X1 customers who subscribe to MLB Extra Innings, and no action is required to receive this feature. If for some reason you are not able to see this beta, please unplug your box, wait 1 minute, and then plug it back in.

MLB Extra InningsHD (Beta)" Listing in the X1 Guide:

- The MLB Extra Innings HD (Beta)" channel is the first MLB listing in the X1 guide above the current MLB EXTRA INNINGS SD channels.

Note: At this time, the MLB Extra Innings HD (Beta)" listing will not be associated with a channel number because this feature is in trial. This means that customers will not see a channel number in the X1 guide and therefore cannot tune to this channel by entering a channel number, as one does not exist.

- Selecting MLB Extra Innings HD (Beta) from the X1 guide launches the MLB Extra Innings HD (Beta) Collection page with MLB team logos organized by league.
